Hi Boys & Girls. Tomorrow is Pancake Tuesday! I am definitely going to eat lots of pancakes. My favourite are the thick pancakes with maple syrup and toasted almonds on top. Which do you prefer—the thicker ones or the thin crepes? And what kind of toppings do you like? Don't forget to make a smiley or silly face on one of your pancakes and send in a photo for our Smiley Pancake gallery page in the next edition of the newsletter. Your grown-up can check out this link if they would like to find out more about Mental Health Ireland's Smiley Pancake campaign: <https://www.mentalhealthireland.ie/smiley-pancake-campaign/>

Make someone smile for mental health this Pancake Tuesday!

Have a bit of fun and dress your pancake with a smile. To get involved in the #smileypancake campaign...

1. Make or buy your pancake.... We won't judge either way!
2. Make your pancake smile using fruit, Nutella, peanut butter, savoury fillings... the list is endless.... Get creative!
3. Post a photo of your #smileypancake to social media with the all-important #smileypancake hashtag.
4. Donate what you can to Mental Health Ireland via text (Text MHI to 50300) or in a donation box.

Don't forget to send a photo to Mrs. Dungan for the Newsletter!

WHAT HAS EVERYONE BEEN UP TO?

- Amy Tierney (Ms. Keane) learned to ride her bike on Feb 2nd. She took to it like a duck to water. She was cycling within 10 minutes! Wow – well done Amy that is great news – happy cycling!
- Amélie Dinan (Ms. Holohan 1st Class), learnt how to make snow flakes out of paper. She made this St Valentine's theme one & is going to make loads & string them together to give to her Mum on St Valentine's Day.
- Christopher Fox in Ms. Spillane's Senior Infant class enjoys doing puzzles. He found a piece of stone on the beach. It reminded us of the ancient Sun God in the pyramids. So an Egyptian friend kindly gave us this scroll. We are going to look up the writing and break the code.
- Íosla O'Leary (Ms. Todd/Kelly) has created this wonderful piece of ice art. What a good idea Íosla – it turned out beautiful too.
- Áine Garrigan (Ms. Ryan) celebrated her 5th birthday on Sunday!! She had a great day with lots of birthday surprises and a big 5 balloon that floats up high. Her favourite part was the party with her family and the big chocolate cake! Happy Birthday Áine!

How Can I submit my own news?
